

Acknowledgement of Country

We acknowledge the Traditional Owners of the land on which our co-operative operates and where we come together to work and live. We recognise Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander spiritual and cultural connection to land and waterways. We pay our respects to Elders past and present.

Reflect CEO Statement

Reconciliation Australia welcomes CBH Group to the Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) program with the formal endorsement of its inaugural Reflect RAP.

CBH Group joins a network of more than 1,100 corporate, government, and not-for-profit organisations that have made a formal commitment to reconciliation through the RAP program.

Since 2006, RAPs have provided a framework for organisations to leverage their structures and diverse spheres of influence to support the national reconciliation movement. The program's potential for impact is greater than ever, with close to 3 million people now working or studying in an organisation with

The four RAP types — Reflect, Innovate, Stretch and Elevate – allow RAP partners to continuously develop and strengthen reconciliation commitments in new ways. This Reflect RAP will lay the foundations, priming the workplace for future RAPs and reconciliation initiatives.

The RAP program's strength is its framework of relationships, respect, and opportunities, allowing an organisation to strategically set its reconciliation commitments in line with its own business objectives, for the most effective outcomes.

These outcomes contribute towards the five dimensions of reconciliation: race relations; equality and equity; institutional integrity; unity; and historical acceptance.

It is critical to not only uphold all five dimensions of reconciliation, but also increase awareness of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, histories, knowledge, and leadership across all sectors of Australian society.

This Reflect RAP enables CBH Group to deepen its understanding of its sphere of influence and the unique contribution it can make to lead progress across the five dimensions. Getting these first steps right will ensure the sustainability of future RAPs and reconciliation initiatives and provide meaningful impact toward Australia's reconciliation journey.

Congratulations CBH Group, welcome to the RAP program, and I look forward to following your reconciliation journey in the years to come.

Karen Mundine Chief Executive Officer Reconciliation Australia

Our Reconciliation Vision

Our vision for reconciliation is to be better together, to acknowledge and understand our shared history and move forward together to build a shared future that embodies respect, inclusion and sustainability. We work towards a co-operative culture of cultural safety that provides a positive workplace for our team and contributes to a more just and equitable future for all Australians.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

I am a Merningar yorga and come from the south coast of WA. My style verges on contemporary First Nations art and is quite colourful, although I maintain my strong cultural identity via strong cultural interpretations. For me, the use of bright colours is a way of interpreting my culture & traditional values, who I am and where I come from.

ARTWORK DESCRIPTION

This piece is designed as a landscape map. The circles represent some of the CBH offices on a map. Each 'location' has its own design (identity) and is unique to them. The footprints show us all walking together on this journey of reconciliation, and also represent the old paths of our people. The hills on the right-hand side reflect some of the landscape and their significance as key lookout points while travelling across Country. The ocean is reflected in the bottom left corner, the circles show the sea landscapes while the design work reflects the tides. The ocean is culturally significant and is a unique world in our Dreaming. The people in the top right reflect the CBH people and those who work with them are in different shades of gray as they are also unique and different in many ways. This component of the design also shows the people in the communities that CBH work with in many other different ways.

The piece overall reflects how diverse we all are and that working together for a better future is the way to go. We must grow and accept all that is different in our world to ensure a future for the generations to come.

CEO Message

Together with the Board of CBH Group, I am proud to share our inaugural Reflect Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP).

At CBH, we believe that together we are better. As a co-operative owned by Western Australian grain growers, we are aware of the power of the collective to achieve positive outcomes for each other and for our communities.

With this RAP, CBH joins the collective of organisations who are working to develop awareness of the culture, histories and knowledge of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, so we can move forward together to build a shared future that embodies respect, inclusion and sustainability.

Critical to this shared future is the people who work at CBH. We all have a responsibility to respect one another, to be inclusive and to value each of our differences. As part of our Sustainability Plan, we are working to develop and implement a diversity, equity and inclusion plan to ensure our people can bring their full selves to work and ensure our co-op can benefit from the full range of talent and perspectives available. We want to attract and retain the best talent who connect with the purpose of our co-operative to sustainably create and return value to WA grain growers, both current and future.

At CBH we believe that reconciliation provides an opportunity for greater understanding, inclusiveness and respect across cultures.

We respect the rich history and connection of Traditional Owners to the lands where we operate. Therefore, at CBH, we want to play our part and contribute to enhancing reconciliation across the communities in which we operate.

The development of our first RAP details the steps we are taking to further develop and enhance relationships by building trust and respect, deepening our understand and by celebrating the Traditional Owners' history, culture and achievements.

Our Reflect RAP aligns to our values at CBH of respectful, collaborative, reliable and sustainable. These values will guide us as we continue to develop an inclusive and culturally safe workplace.

On our reconciliation journey, I encourage openness and understanding as we work to create strong and enduring relationships with our Traditional Owner communities where, together, we can sustainably build a better future.

Ben Macnamara

Chief Executive Officer

Our Business

Owned by Western Australian grain growers, the CBH Group is Australia's largest co-operative and a leader in the Australian grain industry, with operations extending along the value chain from fertiliser to grain storage, handling, transport, marketing and processing.

The core purpose of CBH Group is to sustainably create and return value to WA grain growers, current and future. CBH has grown from humble roots started in 1933 into one of the world's largest and most efficient grain supply chains, delivering millions of tonnes of quality Western Australian grain into the hands of customers around the world each year. CBH Group employs approximately 1,100 permanent employees and up to 2,100 casual employees during the harvest period from October through to January. At CBH Group we have employees that identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander but CBH does not ask employees to indicate their cultural backgrounds and therefore has no statistics in this regard. CBH will utilise the Reflect RAP process to determine culturally appropriate ways to understand this and provide employees with greater opportunities to self-identify.

CBH's storage and handling business operates more than 100 grain receival sites across the Western Australian wheatbelt. These sites receive the bulk of the Western Australian grain crop through harvest with a large casual workforce employed during this time to service growers delivering to CBH. Following harvest, grain is transported by rail and road to our four export terminals at Geraldton, Kwinana, Albany and Esperance to meet customer shipping requirements.

Western Australia exports around 90 per cent of its grain crop bulk from our four terminals to more than 30 countries across the world. We also export grain in containers through container loading services at our Metro Grain Centre in Perth. The Metro Grain Centre houses the Australian Grain Centre, which provides on-site grain testing facilities and quality control services. Our Head Office is based in Perth, with regional offices located in our grain growing communities.

Our co-operative's Marketing and Trading arm is the leading grain buyer in Western Australia and Australia's largest grain exporter. It has operations in Eastern Australia, as well as offices in Hong Kong and Tokyo. The Marketing and Trading arm is supported by a team of regional Business Relationship Managers who provide grain marketing and product advice and support to growers, as well as an international marketing team who service customers across the globe.

CBH owns Blue Lake Milling, a leading manufacturer of premium Australian oat products operating in South Australia, Victoria and Western Australia. We also own a 50 per cent stake in Interflour Group. From its Head Office in Singapore, Interflour operates nine flour mills in Indonesia, Vietnam, the Philippines and Malaysia, including a grain port terminal in Vietnam; and Intermalt, a malting house in Vietnam.

Our locations

Our RAP

Western Australia is home to the third largest Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population in Australia with an estimated 120,000 people of which approximately 60 per cent live outside of major cities.

CBH has had a long history of engaging informally with the Traditional Owners of the land on which we operate our grain receival network over the past 90 years.

As a large regional business and with a shared connection with the land and regional communities, CBH is uniquely placed to contribute to reconciliation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, and to learn from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, through the reconciliation journey.

Our organisation is committed to building a strong foundation during the Reflect stage for reconciliation. As part of our commitment to reconciliation, we will work to increase our awareness and understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and histories, and to develop our cultural competence. We will engage in consultation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities to learn from their experiences and perspectives, and to build meaningful partnerships based on mutual respect and understanding. We will also review our existing diversity and inclusion policies and practices, and work to create opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to contribute to, and participate in, our organisation.

Our RAP sets out practical steps for our organisation to contribute to reconciliation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, both internally and within the communities we operate. We also recognise the importance of taking a structured approach to our RAP, and as part of our Reflect RAP stage we will establish a working group with representation from across the business, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander representation, and will be chaired by a dedicated role. This group will be responsible for driving our reconciliation journey, and for ensuring that we are making progress towards our goals. In addition, CBH will appoint a RAP Champion from our senior leadership team who will be responsible for driving and championing internal engagement and awareness of the RAP. We believe that this collaborative approach will be essential to achieving our reconciliation objectives.

Finally, we understand that our reconciliation journey is a long-term focus, and that it will require ongoing commitment and effort. We are in the early stages of our journey, but we are committed to making progress and believe that by working together with our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander partners, we can create positive change.

Our Partnerships

Heritage Agreements

CBH has cultural heritage agreements with several Aboriginal corporations and groups representing Traditional Owners of Country across the entire network from Geraldton to Esperance. Some examples of these include the Yued, Whadiuk, Ballardong, Gnaala Karla Booja and Wagyl Kaip peoples via the South West Aboriginal Land and Sea Council, the Marlinyu Ghoorlie peoples, and more informal arrangements exist between CBH and the Kepa Kurl Wudjari in Esperance and Yamatji Southern in Geraldton. The agreements are in place to facilitate the protection of Aboriginal cultural heritage and typically involve consultation with the Traditional Owners of our intentions to develop the land and engaging with them via heritage consultants to conduct surveys and monitoring. This is to ensure that any Aboriginal cultural heritage located within our project areas are identified and protected, and our projects can proceed with the Traditional Owner's informed consent.

Clontarf Foundation

CBH has supported the Clontarf Foundation since 2016, specifically their academies located in Albany, Esperance, Geraldton, Katanning, Kwinana, Narrogin and Northam. The Clontarf Academies exist to improve the education, discipline, self-esteem, life skills and employment prospects of young Aboriginal men

As part of our partnership, CBH staff are encouraged to interact with the Clontarf Academies and the participants in said locations. These include participating in breakfasts, training programs, award nights, regional carnivals and workplace visits. These interactions are an important component of the partnership.

Brookton Rail Siding

A traditional Smoking Ceremony was performed by Gnaala Karla Boodja man Ryan Humphries at the Brookton site on Wednesday 1 February 2023.

On Friday 24 February 2023, we marked the start of construction at our Brookton rail siding extension project, the first of 11 rail siding projects CBH is building in conjunction with the Western Australian and Commonwealth Governments under the Agricultural Supply Chain Initiative (ASCI). The start of construction was marked by an event at the Brookton site with Traditional Owners from the Seabrook Aboriginal Corporation, welcoming guests to Country, and comments from WA Agriculture Minister and Food, Forestry and Small Business Jackie Jarvis, CBH Chair Simon Stead and CBH Chief Executive Officer Ben Macnamara. The project has supported the creation of 34 jobs, employed three local contractors for civil works and a further three Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander businesses to carry out site works, as well as sourcing materials from local farms and quarries.

The Smoking Ceremony and Welcome to Country were greatly appreciated by all involved. CBH intends to continue to engage with local Aboriginal communities to provide these services at as many of our sites as practicable.

CBH also engaged local Aboriginal representatives to participate in a flora survey at our Dumbleyung operations on Tuesday 21 February 2023 and will engage with the local community at Konnongorring for a revegetation program there.
